

This may constitute an advertisement or solicitation pursuant to the CAN-SPAM Act. If your preference is to receive no future commercial correspondence from us as defined in the Act, you may forward a request to “opt out” to cttnuncunsubscribe@ctt.com. Please include your name and email address with your request.

CHICAGO BULL

VOLUME 1, EDITION 47

North Carolina Mechanics' Lien Agent & LiensNC.com

(Effective April 1, 2013)

Updated and Revised as of March 28, 2024

Effective April 1, 2013, the mechanics' lien agent provisions of the private mechanics' and materialmen's lien statute (N.C. Gen. Stat. Chapter 44A, Article 2) went into effect, and the website application, LiensNC.com, is now launched.

The statute applies to all construction projects and all Article 2 lienable labor, services, materials and rental equipment, with four (4) exceptions:

- (1) improvements under $40,000; (Effective 10-1-2023, this amount was raised from $30,000.)
- (2) renovation to owner's existing "single-family" residence;
- (3) first furnishing was prior to April 1, 2013; or
- (4) construction, reconstruction, alteration or repair of any public building, work or improvement.

The Guide section of LiensNC.com provides instructions on the simple 3-step process available on the website:

Step #1: The owner (or contractor on behalf of the owner) can file an Appointment of Lien Agent identifying the property and pre-appointment workers. Note: Whether filed by the Owner or the Contractor, the vested owner or leaseholder (as the case may be) must be shown on the appointment as the "Owner".

Step #2: Potential lien claimants can file a Notice to Lien Agent that they are providing lienable labor, services, material or rental equipment to the property thereby preserving their lien rights if the property is sold or mortgaged.

Step #3: A closing attorney can search for applicable Appointment(s) and related notices, can click "Closing Notice" for updates of later filings, and can have real-time information about who has filed. Thus, rather than the old "long form" lien waivers and subordinations, an identified list of potential claimants can be addressed – protecting your purchaser and lender clients.

The NCLTA forms and instructions have been revised to correspond with the new statute and are available on our website at www.northcarolina.ctt.com. Form 1 (no recent improvements) will remain. Forms 2 (waiver) and 3 (subordination), the so-called "long forms", will remain for pre-April 1 projects or projects where no lien agent is required. For post-April 1 projects wherein a lien agent has been appointed, newly created Form 5 will be the owner's affidavit. Newly created Forms 6 (waiver) and 7 (subordination) have been designed so that the owner and contractor can have individual potential lien claimants sign off as they are paid rather than the last minute scramble just before closing.

Go to the LiensNC.com website, check it out and contact our Chicago Title counsel with any information or suggestions on how we can help with the process!